Red Cross Sponsor Concert in Aid of Campaign

Addresses to be Made in All Languages; Local Talent to be Heard at Concert.

A well attended meeting was held on Tuesday evening to discuss plans for the forthcoming national Red Cross campaign which will start officially on March 1 and continue throughout the month. $10 millions of dollars is the minimum objective. Coleman's quota is $1,000.

Several of those present were in favor of opening the campaign with a fanfare of publicity and so bring to the attention of all citizens the urgent need of funds for the Red Cross. As a result the following committee was chosen by president W. Dutil to make the necessary arrangements for staging the concert: M. Opulski, M. Stigler, Mrs. Urkiewicz, Mrs. F. Smith, President Dutil, Secretary J. Park and A. Balloch.

It has been arranged to have the concert in the community hall on Sunday, March 7 at 8.30. Brief addresses will be made in the language of each nationality in Coleman. Names of talented artists residing in town have been secured and efforts will be made to have them donate their services at the concert.

During the meeting it was proposed by a union delegate that possibly arrangements could be made whereby a canvass could be made at both mines and so eliminate a great deal of work of a door-to-door canvass. The meeting agreed that the suggestion should be placed in front of the miners at their union meeting next Sunday and if found agreeable with them arrangements would be made for a mine canvass.

A second meeting to arrange final plans will be held next Tuesday in the council chamber at 8 p.m.

Notice to Subscribers

In keeping with the rule now in force by daily and many weekly newspapers, subscriptions must be paid in advance. There are some who have been notified of subscriptions past due, which they have not attended to. Notice is therefore given that their names will be taken from the mailing list and the amounts due will be placed for collection.

Present conditions as to supplies, paper and other causes make this step necessary, and we trust that those in arrears will govern themselves accordingly.

We thank those who have paid promptly in advance, thereby saving the office time and expense in sending statements and book-keeping costs.

Liquor System Causes Much Resentment

Only 26 Ounces Hard Liquor Allowed a Customer Per Month; 12 Pints Beer Allowed Each Week.

Resentment continues to increase at the liquor regulations, which appear to be stricter as each week goes by. At the present time customers at the vendor's are only allowed a 26-ounce bottle of hard liquor per month; 2 bottles of wine per month, providing the two bottles are secured in the one purchase, and only 12 pints of beer per week.

Forty-ounce bottles of hard liquor were being sold as long as the supply lasted and on Wednesday the supply was fast dwindling.

A direct result of the new regulations has been the increased sale of permits to women. It has been revealed that one day this week there were as many women buying liquor permits as there were men. In this manner a double supply of liquor can be obtained by some households.

The beer problem, however, is the one getting the most consideration from the average miner. There is little doubt that locally the miner likes his beer and to have it taken from him in the manner the federal government has been decreasing has resulted in the expectant discontent and resentment.

Things appeared to come to a head on Saturday night, when all three hotels sold out their beer ration before the scheduled closing time. The Legion club was only selling to members and the bulk of the men were unable to secure more beer.

Much prominence has been given in the dailies to Tom Uphill's declaration that the miner must be given his beer. Mr. Uphill is M.L.A. in the B.C. legislature.

The beer question is scheduled to be discussed at a miners' union meeting here on Sunday.

2414 Citizens Secure Ration Books in First Two Days

Public Co-Operating Nicely in Securing New Ration Books.

Local citizens are co-operating splendidly in securing their new ration coupons and all is working smoothly.

On Monday and Tuesday, 2414 persons had secured their new books, and on Wednesday citizens were also reported to be making steady application for the new books. It is expected the bulk of the citizens will have secured their books by Friday evening at 9 o'clock. Failure to secure them before that hour will cause delay as no further books will be issued from Antrobus' office and a new depot will probably have to be set up to take care of late comers. All are requested to get their books within the scheduled time.

Young Britain Learns the Soldier's Craft: Cadets Handling 25-Pounders

British boy cadets of 14-17 years old are learning the complex craft of modern soldiering. They study map reading and field strategy and handle the Army's most up-to-date instruments and weapons. At 17 they are drafted into the Home Guard until old enough to join the regular army. Picture shows: A young man of Devon releasing the kick in a 25 pounder gun-howitzer.

Noisy Dogs Create Nuisance on Second Street

Letters Sent to Council To Take Action; Only 43 Dog Tags Sold.

Letters and the Press have made it quite clear to the council that it is about time that action be taken to eliminate the dog nuisance which is fast becoming a source of annoyance to a number of ratepayers.

This week the dog nuisance was again brought to the council's attention. It appears that a pack of dogs on Second street have become so noisy that it is becoming imperative that something be done immediately. On Wednesday morning five dogs were seen snapping and barking at each other at the entrance to the High school, the noise obviously being heard inside the school.

Despite the large dog population only 43 dog tags have been sold to-date. It is expected that the council will act at the next regular meeting when complaints on the dog nuisance are read and discussed.

Soldiers' Letters

The Journal: Well, here goes for another line or two, mostly to say The Journals are coming in swell and I've had 6 in the past two weeks. It sure is good to read the latest.

I received a letter from Walter Cieslak and I went down to the "holding unit" where he is stationed and I really had a good chat with him. Alex Chalmers is also there and they are together up to the present time. I cheered them up with the best—a package of Sweet Caps, which the Legion sent me, as they were completely out and have no love of these "Limey" fags.

I was very surprised on New Year's Eve at a dance when I bumped into Sam Gillies. It was the first time I had seen him in ten months and he had just moved into our district. We are stationed about a mile apart. Sam is working in the garage or "work shop" as electrician and states he is doing fine and wishes to be remembered to all in Coleman. I am working on a telephone switch board at present.

Oscar Hirsch has been on a course during the past six weeks and I expect to look him up shortly. Joe Bodisch is working here and wishes to be remembered to all in Coleman and as yet he has never received any cigarettes—Dvr. L. A. Caroe.

Increasing shortage of furs has brought about an increase in cat stealing, the Dumb Friends' League, declared in London. The League sought the aid of police to stop this activity of "stealing cats to make fur coats."

Friday Deadline For Ration Books At Antrobus' Office

Public Asked to Co-operate and Secure Book By Friday at 9 p.m. at very Latest.

Warning is given all persons still without their new ration books that the new books will positively not be distributed from Antrobus' office on Main street after 9 p.m. to-morrow (Friday).

All work in distributing the books is done by voluntary help. Those clerks are certainly doing their part in promoting Canada's war effort but it would be asking too much from them to stay at their desks indefinitely in order to accommodate people who, it would appear, make no effort to get their ration books within the scheduled time of Feb. 22-26.

After Friday it is not known where the books will be distributed to those who fail to make application. All are advised to secure them to-day or to-morrow at the latest and avoid confusion for themselves.

Resignation of Town Foreman Accepted

Special meeting of the council was held on Tuesday, those present being Mayor Antrobus, Councillors Ford, Abousaffy, Dutil, Ramsey and Cox.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the resignation of the town foreman, who had handed his resignation to the secretary on the 18th.

It was regularly moved and seconded that his resignation be accepted and that Mayor Antrobus be authorized to advertise for a town foreman and the selection be left in the hands of the council. Also, the secretary be instructed to write John Nikituk, advising him that at the end of his 7 days notice, he turn over to Chief Andie all his clothing and equipment or anything belonging to the Town.

Moved by Councillor Dutil that meeting adjourn.

The worthy grand matron was presented with pieces of Mikado China by Associate Matron Mrs. Davidson, on behalf of the local chapter.

Following the meeting an enjoyable social evening was held, the party breaking up after midnight.

GUIDE NOTES

Due to the cold weather of the past few weeks the Guides have been meeting at the home of the Captain, but this week we resumed our parades in the hall. After the few weeks without much "ceremony" it was quite pleasant to get back to regular opening and closing exercises.

Our quilt (or we should say quilts) is almost completed. It was a pleasant surprise to find that our friends had been kind enough to give us enough names to make two quilts. We think they are quite nice, and hope you will too, when you see them displayed shortly.

Guides work has necessarily suffered the last few meetings, but with the return of more favorable weather we hope to make up for lost time.

Last week Mrs. Parsons kindly instructed the Class girls in artificial respiration, and we hope that in the near future she will again be present.

Bellevue Principal Addressed Lions Club

Coleman Lions, at the regular supper-meeting on Monday evening, heard with interest an address by Mr. McEachern, principal of Bellevue schools. He spoke on the subject "Schools and Mental Health."

He skilfully outlined the duties of the present day teacher and the changes that had taken place in the schools from the days of his listeners to the present day. He made it abundantly clear that the duties of the present day teacher entails much more than appears on the surface.

A brief discussion took place on the forthcoming annual Drama Festival, Lion Sid Short has been appointed in charge of all committees and it is expected he will be making an announcement as to dates, etc. in the near future.

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA AGREE ON THE BROAD PRINCIPLES OF COLLABORATION FOR PEACE

London.—Britain and Russia are agreed on the broad principles of collaboration for peace as well as on the utter destruction of the Axis, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said in a speech commemorating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Red army.

Eden spoke at one of a series of meetings throughout Britain manifesting solidarity of the two nations. In the packed audience at Albert Hall were many high government officials and Mrs. Winston Churchill. The prime minister is confined to his bed with catarrh. A letter from Premier Stalin, expressing confidence that "joint offensive operations" to smash the Axis would soon be possible between the armed forces of the two countries, was read.

Stalin's use of the phrase "joint offensive operations" was interpreted in some quarters as a reminder of Moscow's desire for the western powers to get going with the invasion of Europe.

Before a similar meeting at Newcastle, Production Minister Capt. Oliver Lyttleton said that Britain and the United States have already sent Russia enough tanks to equip 32 armored divisions and planes for 400 squadrons.

Eden declared that "where Hitler's generalship has failed, the wiles of Goebbels (Nazi Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels) are now in play; every effort has been made and will be made to foster suspicion and encourage dissension between the Allies."

"A part in this puppet show is played by the bogey of bolshevism," he said.

"We are not only agreed to work together for the utter destruction of the Axis in war—we are agreed on the broad principles which underlie our collaboration for peace."

"We are agreed to build up a post-war system which shall be the negation of all Hitler's new order stands for."

Eden's audience stood for a rendition of the "Ode to the Red Army" and again to sing the "Internationale" at the conclusion of his speech.

With Mrs. Churchill in the audience were Ivan M. Maisky, Russian ambassador; Viscount Simon, British lord chancellor; Lord Woolton, food minister; Sir James Grigg, war minister, and representatives of the diplomatic corps.

A parade of the British armed forces preceded the program.

PREFERS ACTION

Flying Officer Beurling Wants To Get Back To Job

Montreal.—Canada's most decorated air hero, Flying Officer George "Buzz" Beurling, has started his 6,000-mile coast-to-coast trip around Canada's air training schools.

But the top-ranking Canadian air ace, who has 29 enemy planes to his credit, doesn't like the job he's been assigned to—he would sooner be shooting down more enemy planes.

"Any front will do," he said. "Tunisia, Russia or my old field over Malta."

Beurling says that after his tour of training camps, he will apply for a fortnight's leave and ask that he be returned to overseas duty.

Beurling began his tour with a visit to the St. Hubert service flying training school.

SHORTAGE OF LUMBER

Ban On Construction To Continue In British Columbia

Vancouver.—At least several months will elapse before the timber controller lifts a ban on new construction by private individuals or companies in British Columbia. D. D. Roserberry, assistant timber controller, said, and the prohibition may be in effect "for the duration."

An unprecedented shortage of lumber caused by the manpower shortage and weather which tied up production necessitated the ban on private building, which was announced recently. Only construction related to the war effort may be commenced until further notice.

DAIRY FARMERS PROVIDED WITH A MARKET FOR ALL THE BUTTER THEY CAN PRODUCE

Ottawa.—The prices board issued an order, effective March 1, which will provide dairy farmers throughout Canada with a market for all the dairy butter they produce. The order authorizes wholesalers and retailers to take "any amount" of farm butter offered to them at definitely prescribed prices.

The board's announcement said farmers who formerly were unable to dispose of their butter on the market now may dispose of their surplus through their local stockkeepers or wholesalers. If the stockkeepers or wholesalers propose to sell the butter to their customers in the normal course of trade, they will surrender the usual ration coupons.

If, however, the offerings of dairy butter are more than can be sold in the usual course of trade, stockkeepers or wholesalers will give farmers a receipt, and these stocks of butter will be turned over, through local agents, to the Prices Stability Corporation.

The Prices Stability Corporation, the board's statement said, will in turn dispose of the stocks of butter for use in manufacturing and through other available outlets.

The new order, the prices board announced, not only makes dairy butter available to retailers and consumers alike, but also puts into effect a uniform price ceiling in each province, thus assisting farmers who until now have been operating under low basic period prices.

Starting March 1, the maximum price at which a primary producer may sell dairy butter to a wholesale distributor will be 35½¢ per pound in British Columbia, 34¢ in Alberta or Manitoba, 33½¢ in Saskatchewan, 33¢ in Ontario or Quebec and 32¢ in the Maritimes.

If the farmer sells his butter to a stockkeeper, the maximum price will be 37¢ per pound in British Columbia, 35½¢ in Alberta or Manitoba, 35¢ in Saskatchewan, 37½¢ in Ontario or Quebec, and 38½¢ cents in the Maritime provinces.

The board emphasized that in selling butter direct to consumers farmers still must collect coupons for the amount sold. Householders are reminded that ration coupons are necessary for dairy as well as creamery butter.

Under the order, farmers wishing to sell direct to customers can obtain the same prices as stockkeepers—40¢ a pound in British Columbia; 38¢ in Alberta, Manitoba or Saskatchewan; 40¢ in Ontario or Quebec, and 42¢ per pound in the Maritimes. These prices are substantially the same as the maximum prices for first grade creamery butter.

Retailers and wholesalers dealing in farm butter in the regular course of their business are authorized by the new order to purchase farm butter for the Prices Stability Corporation, after March 1, at the following prices: 33½¢ per pound in British Columbia, 32¢ in Manitoba or Alberta, 31½¢ in Saskatchewan; 34¢ in Ontario or Quebec and 35¢ in the Maritimes.

When buying for the corporation's account, the retailer or wholesaler will be allowed a two-cent handling charge, paid by the corporation. Agents representing it, to be appointed immediately, will also be remunerated for the services they perform.

After April 30, the prices board said, the prices quoted may be varied from time to time as conditions warrant.

Says Alaska Is To Be Used For Attack On Japan

New York.—The Tokyo radio broadcast a warning to the Japanese people by a high imperial headquarters official that the United States is planning "a mortal attack upon the mainland of Japan" and that it would come from the north.

Col. Nakano Yahagi, chief of the Japanese army press section, declared in a speech recorded by the federal communications commission that Alaska is to be "the headquarters for attacks against Japan."

He cited the "almost daily bombings" of Japanese forces in the Aleutians by United States planes, the building of "17 new air fields" in China and "preparations" for direct telephone connections between Alaska and China.

He described the air field construction and telephone work as "attempted reinforcement of airplanes to the continent from Alaska."

The Chungking radio announced some time ago that radio-telescope facilities were being constructed for communication between China and the United States.)

"According to the recently announced Roosevelt message," Yahagi warned, "America is preparing to make the year 1943 a year of final battles of the decisive war."

This spokesman, the F.C.C. reported, pointed out the United States was stressing "rapid construction of unsinkable aircraft carriers—that is, land bases."

He asserted, according to the Tokyo broadcast, that the Allies now have 300 planes in China.

Yahagi also foresaw the possibility that Midway island also might be used as a base for an aerial assault on Tokyo, the broadcast said. He continued: "It appears they (Allies) are going to make Dutch Harbor and Hawaii into strongholds and move forward with unity of the respective forces."

REPORT DENIED

Berlin Radio Says Hitler Not Giving Up Army Command

New York.—Rumors that Hitler is preparing to relinquish command of the German armed forces to a fighting general drew a curt denial from the Berlin radio.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press here, quoted "competent military quarters" as declaring the reports "spread abroad" concerning the appointment of a new commander for the eastern front "are devoid of foundation."

In addition, singer Dennis Day, announcer Don Wilson and comedians Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and Sam "Schlepperman" Hearn were along on the tour. Benny's show was given recently at Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Camp Borden.

Canadian Composers' Competition

Adjudicators in the sixth annual scholarship competition for Canadian composers under 22 years of age, will be the group pictured above. From left to right, they are: Hector Charlesworth, Prof. Leo Smith (standing), Godfrey Hewitt, H. T. Jamieson (standing), and Sir Ernest MacMillan. The competition this year has as its chief award a scholarship at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, valued at $750, providing for tuition and maintenance. There are also other cash prizes. The competition is run by the Canadian Performing Right Society, which has its headquarters in Toronto.

REPORT SAYS GERMAN MORALE HAS NOW DROPPED TO THE LOWEST LEVEL OF THE WAR

Stockholm.—German morale has hit its lowest level of the war, and it is questionable whether Hitler can lift it out of the depths as he has in the past with military victories.

People who have recently been in Germany, the Nazi press and Swedish newspapers confirm this view. Perhaps especially significant are reports of how heavily the terror of bombings is hitting the German people, and how wounded soldiers describe the "hell" of the eastern front and express hope they won't have to go back.

There is shaken confidence in Hitler as a soldier-genius, especially among the soldiers, as a result of military defeats.

Although morale is bad, no crack-up should be expected before a decisive military defeat becomes plain to every German. In this connection it must be remembered always that the Nazis disarmed the Germans and wiped out the oppositional political leadership so effectively that there are no signs of counter-organization in strength.

Himmler, Hitler's watchdog, is taking no chances. A press campaign to draw recruits for his private army intended mainly for use during internal crises has been running for weeks. He is releasing police and SS troops from clerical and other station work for the field by enrolling women.

He scaled many loopholes in the police network by establishing the "Aidswacht" of "several hundred thousands" strong for security of the homeland. This service is obligatory in addition to regular work, principally for men who fought in the last war and now unfitted for military service.

For years the SS has been quietly taking over strategically located stores and apartments for use as small arsenals and strongpoints in case of trouble.

How hard the war has struck German homes is openly described by the paper, Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. Many Germans evacuated from bombed districts were described as "too shaken to give a coherent picture of what happens during a heavy raid."

The effects, however, are reflected in advertisements now appearing regularly in west German newspapers offering to exchange homes in Dusseldorf, Bremen, Kiel, Essen, Hannover, Cologne and other hard-hit cities for homes in middle or southern Germany or in small towns with good communications to the big cities. Cities such as Berlin and Vienna are overcrowded.

The housing shortage in Vienna, the Voelkischer Beobachter disclosed, is acute, with 75,000 families seeking homes, 13,000 of them urgently.

Wounded soldiers spread uneasiness at home by telling as a typical instance of a company twice reinforced with 100 men yet reduced to 18 men when it left the Russian fighting area.

Last April's reduction in food rations is beginning to have effects now on health. The people are susceptible to colds and illness, and are constantly tired, nervous and irritable.

Meanwhile war crimes—sabotage, black marketing, blackout thefts and burglaries, and disregard of war regulations—are steadily increasing.

Belgium is the most densely populated country in Europe, averaging 712 persons to every square mile.

Michele de Lys, 19-year-old entertainer, spends her spare time writing love letters to English girls for Free Frenchmen. Her letters have brought about three marriages and perhaps more.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Prime Minister Startles House

Realizing that too many divisions are developing among the Liberal members of the House of Commons, particularly among Quebec members, Prime Minister Mackenzie King read the riot act to them and indicated that he might bring on a general election to force the rebels into the open to find if they are with him or determined to hamper the war effort by their political propaganda.

Had Mr. King showed a much firmer hand earlier in the war, he might have held these unruly elements in line, and at the same time have shown the Canadian people at large that he was possessed of forceful leadership which was not afraid to challenge those whose support of the war effort was either lukewarm or non-existent.

Quebec has been pandered perhaps too much. Former Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal thought he could flout wartime rulings with impunity and is at present in an internment camp. The Cardinal-led party rebels are disputing the policy of the government, Premier Aberhart in Alberta has told people over the radio that the soldiers when they return from the war will have to sweat and labor to pay the interest on Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. Many other things have been said which have as their object the embarrassment of the Federal government, in which C.C.F. members, Social Credit and Liberal rebels all have had a part.

As Mr. King pointed out, an example of a house divided against itself was seen in the fall of France. With so many aspirants for political leadership in Canada during wartime, there is a danger of creating disunity which can be very damaging to the war effort.

The propaganda carried on by all of these political leaders who are not in accord with the government's policies is aimed at feathering their own nests; not to promote a united war effort. There are many things. The Journal does not agree with in the Liberal party's policy, but it does believe it is its duty to uphold the government during the present critical era in the world's history. An election at a time such as this would provoke bitter controversy and more disunity. Mr. King's best move would be to form a coalition government to join forces against the rebellious elements.

Rommel Hits Back in North Africa

"Americans concede defeat in Tunisia; Crack Panzers hit Genoa; United States troops; Mme. Chiang Warns of Japan's Might." These are banner headlines across the front page of that conservative newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor, of Boston. Premier King in the House of Commons stated that only now are the Allied Nations beginning to equal in power that of the Axis forces. Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt warn of heavy casualties. Submarines maintain their devastating toll.

Against these there is the toll the Russians are taking of Germany's land and air forces, and the holding of the Japs in the southwest Pacific by U.S. forces.

No early end of the war is in sight. The relentless struggle for Victory must go on. The setback in Tunisia brings the following editorial comment in the Christian Science Monitor, significant indeed in view of the opinion late in 1942 that when the Americans landed in North Africa the Axis armies were going to be pushed into the sea:

"Earlier warnings that the Tunisian campaign would not be easy are now being borne out by reports of Rommel's attack on American forces there. This was carried out with a vigor typical of Nazi first moves, with heavy armor, dive bombers and troops brought with relative ease over good roads, along with sufficient supplies. The American positions were lightly held and supplied over narrow trails.

"These facts should be borne in mind when calculating the fighting qualities of the Americans now facing Rommel's veterans. The withdrawals reflect in no way on the American troops.

"But the retreat should have a sobering effect on many Americans including those officers who lately earned a sharp warning from General Eisenhower against supercilious and offensive remarks about America's allies. Observers in Africa report an unfortunate tendency toward 'cockiness' on the part of some Americans there, especially those new on the ground, who have had no experience working with their allies. The setback to American forces should be taken to heart by such people.

"Though it doubtless is temporary and local, it is reported already to have exposed the British flank and obliged General Montgomery to rearrange his forces. Descriptions of the thinness of the American line would suggest that the proportion of American to British troops in Africa has been over-estimated, in which case current statements that the North African affair has been 'an all-American' show, and that it will continue as such, require close examination.

"Apparently Rommel has now widened the corridor through which he hopes to move the rest of his Afrika Korps to a junction with his main forces. The concentration of German power in Tunisia may by now be extremely formidable; that the Nazis are willing to pay a big price to postpone the inevitable in Africa is indicated in the severe losses they are willing to sustain on the sea routes to Tunisia.

"President Roosevelt and Secretary Stimson have offered us perspective for the battles ahead. Also needed is a realization that a superiority complex on the part of Americans can be a hindrance to good teamwork among allies, and can prevent proper appreciation of the difficulties that American fighting men on far away fronts must overcome. The point is sharpened by the news from Tunisia."

In Honor of The Boy Scouts

Last week was Boy Scout Week. Though no special observance of it was made locally. One of the Empire's most distinguished soldiers, and a friend of boyhood throughout the world, the late Lord Baden-Powell, inaugurated the Boy Scout movement in 1908, and was recognized as Chief Scout of the World until his death in 1941. He will long be remembered also as the hero of Mafeking, the western Transvaal town besieged during the Boer War, where Baden-Powell commanded the besieged garrison of British soldiers and withstood all attempts by the Boers to force them to surrender.

The Scout movement grew to be the largest youth organization in the world, with more than 25 million boys benefitting from its training. Over 100,000 former Boy Scouts are serving in the Canadian forces. Several have been decorated for gallantry, and more than 200 have given their lives.

To the leaders of the Boy Scouts in Coleman, appreciation is expressed for the good work they are doing, without any fanfare or publicity seeking.

In a tribute to a former member of the newspaper's staff who died from illness caused by service in the Battle of the Atlantic, the West Lancashire Evening Gazette said: "Radio Officer Jack Kirkbridge was a King's Scout, and he was all that distinction means. We in this office watched him grow from boyhood and admired his eagerness and vitality. He was a good Scout, a good sailor, a good patriot."

Provincial governments are asking the Federal government what they are going to do about making up the losses in liquor profits occasioned by the curtailment of sales. They have about as much right to ask it as the newspapers have to ask the government to make up for the loss in revenue caused by the prohibition of all liquor advertising.

Bounty on Timber Wolves

Alberta will pay a bounty on timber wolves and cougars following passage of a new order-in-council this week. Bounties are $10 for wolves and pups, $15 for cougars. No animals taken in National Parks and in certain designated areas. Only residents of Alberta may obtain the bounties. Application should be made to the nearest R.C.M.P. officer or salaried game warden and the pelt should include the application. Both ears must be attached. The new order will bring gratification to many trappers, farmers and sportsmen who have been urging bounty payments as a means to cut down the inroads of predators on big game animals.

Council Makes A Report to The Ratepayers on Flood Control Negotiations And Light & Water Conference

Editor's Note: The following prepared statement was given The Journal by the Town Council in order to acquaint the ratepayers with the negotiations which have taken place towards flood control in West Coleman.

The flood, which happened at the beginning of last May, certainly caused much damage, trouble and expense.

Last July the Town Council met Superintendent Lamb, of the C.P.R., and one of his engineers, together with representatives of the two coal companies, to see if we could find some solution to the problem. We also discussed the matter with Mr. Bradley, the provincial engineer for this district. After a few weeks had elapsed, we received a letter from Superintendent Lamb, stating that the C.P.R. engineering department had come to the conclusion that to prevent a recurrence of the flood conditions, it was necessary, in their opinion, to make the McGillivray Creek take a direct and straight course into the Old Man River, similar to the way the creek ran in the early days, before it was diverted, and made to take two severe turns. He also said the C.P.R. would be willing to build a culvert sufficiently large under their own tracks and at their own expense, if we could get the other party to do the same under their tracks.

Late in the fall of '42, the town council met Mr. Short in his office, together with other representatives of the coal companies, to see if we could get the coal company to do as the C.P.R. had promised to do, that is, build at their own expense a culvert under the coal companies' tracks. After waiting some time we were informed by letter that the coal companies would be willing to pay half of the expense of the culvert under the coal companies' tracks, and this, of course, had provisions in it, and we are sorry to say that is where the matter stands right now.

We might say that as a temporary measure, last November, to help matters out, the provincial government cleaned out the present creek by hiring Sagoff's caterpillar.

Following is an estimated cost of re-routing the creek directly into the Old Man River as compiled by C.P.R. engineers:

Culvert under C.P.R. tracks, $2,500; culvert under coal companies' tracks, $4,000; waterway through the old channel and the coal companies and C.P.R. culverts, $1,800; control dam to regulate flow down the channel on the north side of track, $800. Total $9,100.

You will, of course, realize that at this time of changing costs of labor and changing prices of material, the figures given can only be termed approximate.

Light & Water Conference

Editor's Note: The following is a prepared statement given The Journal by the council on the recent meeting of the Coleman Light & Water Co. Ltd. and the Council before Chairman G. M. Blackstock, of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

On the 7th day of October, 1942, the Council had an informal conference at Lethbridge with Chairman G. M. Blackstock, of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

Representing the Town were: E. D. Battrum, F. Antrobus, G. Ford and Miss G. Lees; representing the C. L. & W. Co. were: A. F. Short and B. I. Jennett.

Mainly the purpose of this informal conference was to see if we could obtain the sanction from the Board to the following:

(a) That street lighting rates be rescinded by 50 per cent of franchise tariff;

(b) To grant an annual exemption of charges for electricity to the Coleman Miners' hospital up to $130 per annum;

(c) To grant an annual exemption of charges for electricity to Coleman Community Rink up to $75 per annum.

(d) To eliminate hydrant charges which amount to $1,500.

We believe, so far as the Council was concerned, if we could have had Clause D eliminated altogether and the money saved from this source and allowed to accumulate towards taking over the light and water utility, it would have helped quite a lot. You see, ever since the franchise came into being the Town has paid $5 per month per hydrant, and there are 26 hydrants. The council tried, but made very little progress in this direction. Any interested ratepayer who is a consumer can have a loan of the whole typewritten proceedings of the conference.

The most important question with which the Town will have to deal in the near future is the problem of taking over the light and water utility on the 1st day of July, 1944, and for that reason we would like a free expression of opinion on the matter, as to which way you would like your elected representatives to deal with this matter.

If you wish to have any light thrown on any matter, ask your questions and we will do our best to answer.

Following is a copy of a resolution passed at the ratepayers' annual meeting on Friday, Jan. 29: Regularly moved and seconded: that this annual meeting of ratepayers of the Town of Coleman, Alberta, (who are also consumers of light and water) go on record, instructing our elected representatives to find ways and means of taking over the light and water utility on the 1st day of July, 1944, when the 10 years' renewal franchise agreement held by the Coleman Light & Water Co. Limited with this town comes to an end.

Your RED CROSS CALLS TO YOU
Never has the need been so urgent
$10,000,000 NEEDED NOW!

YOUR RED CROSS appeals to you for funds to carry on its program of mercy; to continue vital war work performed by no other organization. Never has the need been so urgent.

Helping to keep up the morale of half-a-million fighting men is a gigantic task, and that is only the beginning. The Red Cross makes life more bearable for thousands of prisoners of war. Over 2,000,000 parcels were shipped to them last year—more than this number must go in 1943. Our men in British and Canadian hospitals need Red Cross comforts and hearing visits from the staff of Red Cross "visitors".

Red Cross help to shipwrecked sailors is essential, thoughtful, immediate. Homeless war orphans—our own kin and those of our allies—sick and starving men and women in many lands—millions in Russia, Greece and China and other peoples of the United Nations—need more food, medicine and comforts from the Red Cross.

The need is world-wide; this year the cost will be greater than ever. The work must go on. Obey the dictates of your heart; open wide your purse and be generous. Remember, you are the Red Cross!

Important modifications in the government's wage policy, involving a cost-of-living bonus something along the line of the Canadian system, have been announced in Eire.

Paris reported all Frenchmen born between 1912 and 1921 have been ordered to register for labor service. Specialists will be reserved for service in German war industry.

Rev. Levi Gethin Hughes, deputy chaplain-general of Britain's armed forces, has been appointed honorary chaplain to the King—the first Baptist minister ever to receive such an appointment.

Rates of wages paid to hired help on Canadian farms showed substantial increases at Jan. 15, compared with the rates in effect at Jan. 15 in 1942 and 1941, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

Production of coal in Saskatchewan lignite fields amounted to 186,145 tons during December, 1942, a drop of 10,000 tons from the total output during the same month in 1941.

The vast MacKenzie district of Canadian Pacific Air Lines, based at Edmonton and extending over the Northwest Territories and the Arctic Coast has been split in two for operating purposes and Grant McConachy, general manager of the western district, announced that two veteran northland airmen, W. J. Windrum and Walter E. Gilbert, F.R.C.S., will be superintendents of the divided territory. Bill Windrum will have charge of the Yellowknife district, including territory to Fort Smith, Fort Resolution, Outpost Island and local work around Yellowknife, Radium and Coppermine, while Walter Gilbert will supervise operations on the MacKenzie district, Edmonton to Fort Smith and Fort Norman, to Aklavik and the Arctic Coast. A general shuffle of superintendents on the western territory follows this division of the MacKenzie district. E. E. R. "Ted" Field, who has been superintending at Whitehorse, succeeded Walter Gilbert as superintending of the Vancouver division; U. S. Wagner left the central district at Winnipeg, to succeed Ted Field at Whitehorse, and W. Cutton was promoted from assistant superintending, Lac du Bonnet, Man., to superintending at Winnipeg, replacing U. S. Wagner.

Glycerine Substitute

Will Make Millions Of Pounds Available For War Explosives

Scientists in U.S. department of agriculture's regional experiment station at Philadelphia, started out a year ago to develop a substitute for common table sugar.

They failed—but instead they developed a solution which will free millions of pounds of glycerine annually for use in the manufacture of bombs and other war explosives.

In effect, the solution is a plain syrup, made with apples.

It will be used in tobacco processing—substituting for glycerine, which has been used for years in tobacco manufacture because of its high humidifying qualities.

May Have Been Seven

Historians Say There Were At Least Five Saints Valentine

Lost in the mists of antiquity is the origin of St. Valentine's Day, and the searchings of historians are not aided by the fact that there were at least five Saints Valentine—some say seven. Strangely enough, the lives of these saints give no clue to the reason for naming the day after them, nor any hint as to why the day was chosen for the exchange of tender sentiments.

In the gay "nineties Valentine cards were of elaborate type—often appearing on lace paper and featuring silks, satins and ribbons, and with mechanical gadgets worked into the scheme. Happily, the cheap and often cruel "card" valentines of the period have largely passed from the scene.

Today's valentines are often masterpieces of the printer's art, and writers outdo themselves in preparing sentimental messages suitable for the occasion and how expert they become in choosing the right word. With millions of lads and lassies shifted from home scene by the necessities of war, the demand for valentines this year was greater than ever. It's a pleasant custom, and the growing use of this type of greeting card proves its particular appeal with the young folk.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 28

JESUS RESTORES LAZARUS TO LIFE

Golden text: I am the resurrection, and the life. John 11:25.
Lesson: John 11.
Devotional reading: I Peter 1:3-12.

Explanations and Comments

JESUS LEARNS OF LAZARUS' SICKNESS. John 11:1-16. At Bethany there was a household beloved of Jesus.—"Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus," we are told by John. When Lazarus fell seriously ill the sisters sent word to Jesus, believing that if he only knew of their great need of him he would come quickly to them. Beautiful trust was expressed by their message, "He whom thou lovest is sick." They made no claim upon him. They simply laid the matter in his hands. Jesus told his disciples that the sickness was "unto the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby." Recall his words concerning the affliction of the blind man: "that the works of God should be made manifest in him."

Jesus delayed two days before he started for Bethany. His disciples would have deterred him from going by reminding him that the Jews had been seeking to stone him and it would be dangerous for him to go back. Jesus told them plainly that Lazarus was dead and added: "I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the interest that ye may believe; nevertheless, let us go unto him." Their Thomas courageously counselled the others: "Let us also go, that we may die with him."

The Situation in the Home at Bethany. John 11:17-19. When Jesus and the disciples arrived, they found that Lazarus' body had lain in the tomb four days for burial took place on the day of his death, as is still customary in Palestine. Bethany being near Jerusalem, only five furlongs (three-fourths of a mile) away, many Jews had arrived from the city to join the sisters in their mourning.

Martha's Wonderful Faith in Jesus. John 11:20-27. When the sisters learned that Jesus was approaching, Mary remained in the house with their friends but Martha hastened out of the village to meet him. "Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died," she cried, and then with wonderful faith she expressed her belief that Jesus could "even now" restore him to life. "I know that whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee," were her words. "Thy brother shall rise again," Jesus returned. She took his words to refer to a far-distant, future resurrection, "the resurrection at the last day," and her belief in that resurrection seems to have given her life comfort, for it was belief, not faith, that she expressed. Belief is a matter of the intellect; faith, a matter of the heart and life. "She was thinking of what concerned the indiscriminate mass of men, the world's millions everywhere, instead of looking at what was close at hand and concerned her."

TESTS BEING MADE

Canada is believed to be the best of the British dominions for cultivation of the Russian dandelion, a source of rubber. But tests are being carried on all over Great Britain, Australia, India, New Zealand and the United States to discover where the plant may be grown successfully.

IT LOOKS THAT WAY

Not so many years ago salmon and tomatoes were about the only canned goods on grocers' shelves. It may not be long now before even they have disappeared.

Military Genius

Might Of German Strategy Has Received A Powerful Jolt

Since the days of the great Clausewitz, the Prussian general who wrote the copy-books for modern military strategists, Germany has been looked upon as the land of military geniuses. The world spoke in awe of "German thoroughness", of German "capacity for organization".

What has happened to all this "genius" and "thoroughness" in Russia? Here is what was supposed to be the mightiest and best led army in the world reeling back before the Russians; out-generalled, out-manoeuvred, out-fought. Hitler's great generals, with their "supermen" behind them, failed to see that Stalin, falling back in the Summer and Fall (just as the Russians fell back before Napoleon) was preparing a great offensive. They obviously failed to grasp, and were powerless to fend, the complicated and concerted moves by which the Russians surrounded and annihilated them at Stalingrad; and equally in failure they fell into a trap in the Caucasus.

And as in Russia, so in Egypt and Libya, Rommel was hailed as a "genius", dubbed the "fox of the desert". But Rommel was only a "fox of the desert" and a "genius" so long as he had superiority in aeroplanes and tanks and guns; once the odds became equal the British under Montgomery drove him back a thousand miles, turned him into (Mr. Churchill's words) "a fugitive from Libya".

Maybe this "German military genius" tale is but a myth; one of many myths about Germany.—Ottawa Journal.

Getting Rid Of Property

Regent Of Hungary Taking His Fortune Out Of Country

The London Daily Sketch says Admiral Horthy, Regent of Hungary, is significantly selling by private treaty a large part of his property in his own country. This is causing much uneasiness in Hungarian political circles, where the deal has become common knowledge.

These circles believe the deal signifies that Horthy is anticipating an end of his regime and is preparing to send the remainder of his fortune out of the country. A large part of his personal fortune is now in the Argentine, as we revealed some time ago.

A DIFFERENT IDEA

Mrs. Brown took her husband to a mannequin parade. An evening gown worn by an extremely pretty model attracted her attention.

"That would look nice at our party next Saturday," she said, hoping her husband would buy it for her.

"Yes," agreed Mr. Brown. "Why not invite her?"

SANDS OF HAZARD

By J. B. RYAN

CHAPTER VIII

MOHAMMED ibn Mulai stood on the crest of a nearby dune, framed against the setting sun, waving one arm and pointing with the other down the far side of the sloping hill. When he saw that he had attracted the attention, Mohammed darted below the curve of the elevation.

Instantly Storey was on his feet, racing up the side of the knoll. The camels must have strayed far, or might even be running away—

Annette was with him when he topped the rise. And there, Storey paused, his anxiety lessened considerably. The dromedaries were less than a stone's throw to his left, their long teeth cropping the camel-thorn. Mohammed ibn Mulai had paused also, kneeling on the ground and bending down close to the sand.

An exclamation broke from Jack Storey. The smooth, rippled surface of the sand was cut by the imprint of many tiny cloven hoofs.

"The sheep?" cried Annette. "Andre Ribbott has passed this way!" Her eyes followed the scarred earth, the trail that swept on into the distant east.

"Well, Jacques?" Her dark eyes, triumphant now, returned to Storey. "Do you believe now what I said about Monsieur Ribbott?"

Storey nodded in the direction taken by Ribbott. "But why should he go this way? The only place he can possibly reach is El Mazouli—"

"Yes," she inclined her head in turn. "The Lonely Well must be his destination. You see, monsieur? There is no railway to take the sheep to the armies of Hitler and Mussolini. Isolated El Mazouli is visited by neither caravan nor traveler, and it is close to the territory of the Kahiri."

Storey rubbed his chin while he considered this statement. "Then Mohammed must have taken the sheep," he decided, "while you and I keep Ribbott in sight. Will that be satisfactory, mademoiselle?"

A voice, that was neither Annette nor Mohammed, said: "You are all going to El Mazouli, O Ferenghi!"

And a bullet, accompanied by the crack of a rifle, ploved into the sand an inch from the toe of Storey's boot.

The American whirled. On the knoll above was a mounted man, his finger on the trigger of a rifle leveled over the head of the camel.

Instantly the Lawless slid from the high-backed camel saddle and approached the passive American. "Allah is good!"

Chief. "In spite of the storm, you who locked me in the jail of Sidi Lebeau, are delivered into my hands—"

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR LIVER

and feel like a million!

Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It pours out bile to digest food, gets rid of waste, supplies new energy, allows proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order food decomposes in your intestines. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. You feel "rotten"—headache, backache, dizziness, dragged out all the time.

For over 35 years thousands have enjoyed the relief from these troubles with Fruit-A-Tives.

So can you now. Try Fruit-A-Tives—you'll be simply delighted how quickly you'll feel better.

of the problem of getting free, but now—

He placed his heels on the ground, his knees still updrawn, and shoved himself closer to Ibn Zeid. Inch by inch he moved, not unlike a crawling worm, toward the sleeping man. His progress was slow, since he must make no sound that might disturb the guard; also, his arms were beneath his sliding body, and the friction twisted and cramped his arms and muscles.

At length he drew up beside Ibn Zeid. Not an inch separated the two men. Carefully, Storey lifted his legs past the Berber's ear, poisoning them over the drooping head. He turned his ankles in a move that spread his knees until they were about six inches apart. Then, swiftly, he brought his legs down upon the Arab.

The Old Homestead

A 30-Acre Farm Within City Limits Of Cleveland

Cleveland.—This city of 1,000,000 boasts a 30-acre farm, with a 100-year-old farmhouse, well within its geographic limits. The farm is owned and operated by William and Lawrence Boyd, bachelor brothers. The homestead was built by their father to replace the log cabin which he built when he and his bride settled about seven miles outside the little village of Cleveland 120 years ago.

Gradually innovations came about—Cleveland's boundaries stretched out to embrace the farm, horse cars replaced cart and team and finally way to buses, but the Boyd farm, though some of its acres were sold, is unchanged.

The Boyds' cousin, Miss Ida Clark, has kept house for them since she came, 40 years ago, to help out when their mother was sick.

They have a farm hand, Charles Tyson, who worked for them for 25 years until he went into business, but he came back, two years ago, for a visit.

Purified Water

Norman Howard of Toronto who will receive the Fuller Memorial Award by the American Waterworks Association for his research on the purification of drinking water of typhus. After two years' intensive research he discovered the secret of water super-chlorination and taste control, now used in over 200 cities in Canada and the U.S.

Seaweed Rocks

Plants Encased In Shell-Like Crust Closely Resemble Coral

We probably are all familiar with the fact that the fossil imprints of plants and animals may be found in rock. Perhaps not so common is the knowledge that seaweeds make rocks. Many seaweeds have a great capacity for extracting limestone from seawater and depositing it as a shell-like crust encasing the plant. Such seaweed rocks are, in some cases, so much like coral as to be mistaken for that substance. Paleontologists have advanced the opinion that many of the massive rocks in the older strata of North America are of seaweed origin.

Visit To Marseille

Is Remembered For Its Famous Fish Stew

Marseille is supposed to be one of the wickedest cities in the world. In normal times it does catch a good deal of the human off-scourings from the seven seas.

It is also a pleasant city of fine, shady boulevards, lined with spacious cafes and luxurious shops. The walk on a sunny day down the Rue Canabiere and its continuation, the Rue Noailles, is one of the most picturesque, colorful and agreeable urban walks in the world. It is a devotedly religious city and its most conspicuous monument is the basilica of Notre Dame de la Garde, situated on a hill rising high above the harbor.

In peacetime it was well fed and its menus offered some dishes not procurable at their best anywhere else in France. One of these was bouillabaisse, a fish stew containing an extraordinary variety of delicious seafood of an inimitable flavor. Pascal's restaurant, in the neighborhood of the Old Port, was famous as the home of the best bouillabaisse below heaven.

The people of Marseille must be missing their bouillabaisse. That may be another reason for their defiant opposition to the Nazis—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SMILE AWHILE

Waiter—What about a chop, sir? Traveller—I never eat chop.

Waiter—In that case, sir, dinner is over.

Vicar—And what parable do you like best, my son?

Boy—The one about the multitude that loafs and fishes.

Mr. De Playwiter—I will never submit to the vulgar demands of modern commercialism.

Mrs. De Playwiter—Reginald, Oh! Reginald! Do not tell me that you cannot pay the butcher bill this month.

"Jim must have dropped from the football team."

"Yes, I notice he's attending classes now."

Prison Visitor—So you're here for seven years. What's the charge?

Convict—Lumme, gunvor, there ain't no charge. Everythink's free 'ere.

Floise—What excuse have you to offer for being a bachelor?

Clarke—Oh! I was born that way.

At a college examination a professor asked: "Does the question embarrass you?"

"Not at all, sir," replied the student. "not at all. It is quite clear. It is the answer that bothers me!"

Mrs. (belligerently)—"Do you think I'm going to wear this old squirrel coat all my life?"

Mr. (brightly)—"Why not, dear? The squirrels do."

The teacher had been explaining the poem "Excelsior." "Now," said, "what is meant by the line, The shades of night were falling fast?"

"It means," said Tommy, "the shop windows were being shut up at closing time!"

Bill—Hear your brother's workin' now, Sam.

Sam—Yus.

"How long he bin workin'?"

"Three months."

"What's he doin'?"

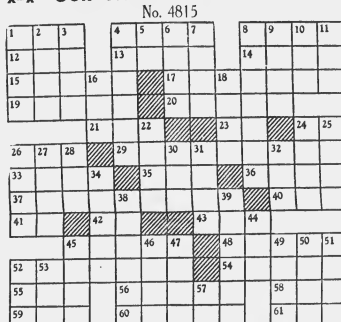

"Six."

"Why don't you settle the case out of court?" said an Irish judge to the litigants before him.

"Sure, that's what we were doing, my lord, when the police came and interfered."

NOT WHAT SHE THOUGHT

He was reading to his wife an account of a famous naturalist's accident.

"Reaching for a rare plant, he slipped over the cliff, and as he fell he gathered momentum."

"Oh George," she interrupted, "the poor man! What an enthusiast he must have been. Fancy picking flowers even as he fell!"
